We heard a very pretty little incident the other day, which we cannot help relating. A young lady from the South, it seems, was wooed and won by a youthful physician living in California. When the engagement was made, the doctor was rich, having been very successful at San Francisco. It had not existed six months, however, when, by an unfortunate investment he lost his entire "heap." This event came upon him it should be added, just as he was making ready to claim his bride. What does he do? Why like an honorable and chivalrous young fellow, as he is, he sits down and writes the lady every particular of the unhappy turn which had taken place in his fortunes, assuring her, that if the fact produced any change in reelings towards him, she is released from every pronise she had made him. And what does the dear, good girl do? Why, she takes a lump of pure gold, which her lover had sent to her when in prosperity, as a keepsake, and having it manufactured in a ring, forwarded it to him, with the following Bible inscription, engraved in distinct characters, on the inside:

. Entreat me not to leave thee or to return from following after thee; for whither thou goest, will I go, and wither thou lodgest, will I lodge; thy people will be my people, and thy God my God; where thou diest will I die; and there will I be buried : thy Lord
